

15% discount
when you quote BPTFC15

Are you concerned about promoting transparency in cases whilst protecting the privacy of vulnerable clients?

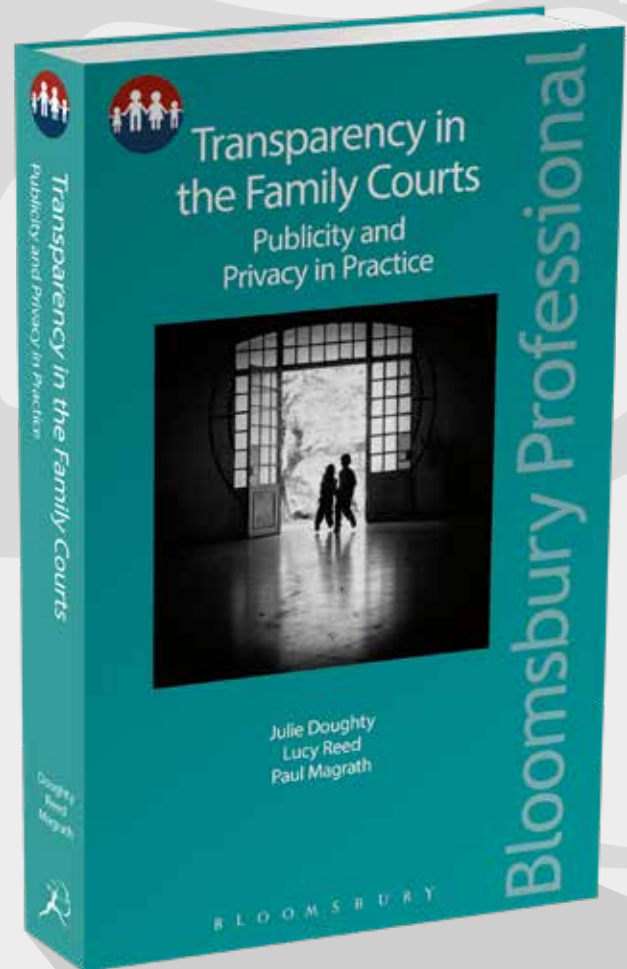

Clarifying what transparency means in practice for professionals and families involved in the family courts, and providing guidance on privacy in family law cases and their reporting in the media – all from an author team from The Transparency Project.

This new title provides full coverage of the implications of the 2014 Guidance on publication of judgments with each of the 8 chapters looking at:

- Key issues
- Coverage of what and how to advise parties
- Practice points
- References to research and policy papers

For more information on content and structure visit www.bloomsburyprofessional.com/transparency

- 9781526503855
- May-18
- Paperback
- £65 £55.25

Buy your copy

W: www.bloomsburyprofessional.com/transparency
E: bplaw@bloomsbury.com
T: (0)1235 465500

Bloomsbury Professional